

Our September Study Day

STARCHITECTS - ANOTHER GALAXY?

PROFESSOR CLYDE BINFIELD

Tuesday 25th September 2018 at CLEY VILLAGE HALL

Doors open at 10.00am for 10.15am start

Starchitects are stratospheric. Their buildings straddle the world, if not as yet the universe. Their practices are vast and cosmopolitan. Their Creators hailed as iconic and cutting edge. Cities have been energised by them, design has been stamped by them.

Norfolk, London, France to name but a few places we will visit. We will meet such giants as Frank Lloyd Wright, Mies van der Rohe and Le Corbusier then pursuing the theme via Colonel Seifert's Centrepoint to Canary Wharf with Pelli and Pei and Norman Foster, Richard Rogers and their world of Hi-tech: Lloyds of London, the Pompidou Centre Paris, the Millenium Dome and the Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts.

Rem Koolhaas, the Dutchman and his pupil the architectural diva Dame Zaha Hadid, all curves and jagged edges and Amanda Leveté, thanks in part to Birmingham's Selfridges, the V&A and the Sackler family. Jean Nouvel, Daniel Libeskind and Frank Gehry and Santiago Calatrava, star struck in Valencia.

We will have seen the world, or at least glimpsed their world.

Professor Clyde Binfield returns to Cley at our members request. He is a man of Kent, Cruise lecturer, Cambridge Graduate, Professor Emeritus in History, University of Sheffield. He is a straight-up-and-down historian returning to some first and last loves –buildings, their creators and their settings.
